Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 10 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry with warm sunny spells, after a cloudy start.

Today:
A rather cloudy but dry start. By late morning the cloud should begin to break, allowing sunny spells to develop, however the odd shower is also possible during the late afternoon. Feeling very warm with light winds. Maximum temperature 26 deg C (79 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers dying away through the evening to leave largely clear skies for a time, however towards dawn cloud will increase but it should remain dry. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Friday:
Mostly cloudy with the odd spot of rain or drizzle possible across the northwest of the region. Cloud clearing southwards later in the day allowing some sunny spells to develop. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Dry over the weekend with light winds and plenty of warm sunshine, although isolated fog patches are possible around dawn. Cloudier Monday with some patchy rain and drizzle on hills.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.